

The Cooper Union

Master of Science in Architecture

The Irwin S. Chanin School of Architecture

The Master of Science in Architecture is a three-semester post-professional degree program in New York City. The studio- and seminar-based curriculum, culminating in a design research thesis project, approaches architectural discourse critically—questioning the very boundaries of architecture itself.

A designated STEM program, allowing international graduates to extend their F-1 visas up to three years.

THECOOPERUNION

Apply!

Application deadline is January 5, 2024.