

Interdisciplinary Studies

12 credits in the areas of literature, philosophy, history, sociology, economics, cultural studies, gender studies, political science, or art history. The coursework options in this area are intentionally broad. It is expected that the student's program will be designed around a particular theme or other organizational principles.

This option cannot be undertaken without the guidance of the student's Major Advisor and Minor Advisor.